**For women at the average risk level, annual screening mammography should start at age 40. If you have any questions about insurance coverage, contact your insurance carrier to verify your benefits and determine any potential financial responsibility.*

All mammography screens are read by radiologists who are fellowship-trained and/or highly experienced in breast imaging, which leads to higher cancer detection rates and fewer unnecessary callbacks for patients.
