

Thank you for choosing The Women's Group for your screening mammogram!

We are grateful you've chosen us for your breast health and imaging needs. To ensure you receive the best care, please review the important information on the back about when to expect your results from your first visit.

Gynecology, Obstetrics, & Aesthetics

When should I expect my results?

Since this is your first visit, your results may be delayed while we obtain access to your previous mammograms and reports. Our radiologists will hold reading your exam for up to 21 days while we work to obtain and review your prior images. Although this may mean that you'll receive your results a little later than usual, please know having these prior images is crucial for our breast-specialized radiologists to make the most accurate comparisons and analyses of your breast health.

Why prior images matter.

Breast tissue can change over time, and by comparing your current images with previous ones, our radiologists can better identify any changes or abnormalities. This comparison helps ensure that we provide you with the most precise and thorough evaluation and is the standard of care.

Good news!

Next year, we will have your images on file.

We appreciate your understanding and patience as we work to provide you with the most accurate and comprehensive mammogram evaluation.
